

AROUND ABOUT TOWN

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS PICKED UP HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE

Misses Janie McKay and Lillian Peterkin have returned from a visit to relatives at Fairmont.

Mrs. M. F. Ingram and children of Hartsville returned home Monday after spending a week at the home of Mr. W. P. Surles.

Mrs. Mary H. Barnes has returned from Baltimore and New York where she spent several weeks buying an elaborate line of fall millinery.

Messrs. E. R. and Junius Liles of Orangeburg were here last week in the interest of their company, the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co.

Misses Rose E. Martin of Savannah, Ga., and Miss McCall of Mullins, and Messrs John L. and Elmore Smith spent one day last week with their cousin, Miss Daisy McLean.

Fairmont is making great preparations for the last races of the season under the auspices of the Pee Dee Driving Association, which will be held tomorrow. Quite a large number of fast pacers and trotters have been entered for the races and the management of the local association guarantees a good time to all who come.

News was received in Dillon yesterday of the death of Mrs. Jasper George which occurred at Latta Tuesday night. Mrs. George had been ill only a few days. She was 26 years of age and is survived by a husband. The interment was made at the Latta cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. George was sister of Mr. John W. Gaddy, of Dillon.

Mrs. Agnes Carmichael was taken to McLeod's Infirmary at Florence last Wednesday evening and was operated on for appendicitis on the following Thursday. The operation was very successful and the last report from the patient's bedside are that she is doing nicely. Mrs. Carmichael has been suffering from mild attacks of appendicitis for several years and the operation was delayed until the removal of the appendix was absolutely necessary.

Mr. J. A. McEachern, of Rowland, a brother of Mr. J. B. McEachern of Hamer, has opened a stock of fancy groceries in the Bass building on the corner of Railroad avenue and Harrison street. Mr. McEachern is interested in a fur manufacturing plant in New York and spends most of his time travelling in the interest of his firm, consequently he has moved to Dillon where he can get better railroad connections. In the spring he purchases truck for several large houses in the north and as he has engaged in trucking himself and understands the culture of all kinds of truck it is his purpose to get the Dillon people interested in a local association. He says the lands in this section are better adapted to truck growing than are the lands further north and he sees no reason why the industry could not be made as profitable here as elsewhere.

The new railroad referred to in the last issue of the Herald has been projected from Lumberton to Dillon by way of Fairmont and on to Brownsville. It is understood that a surveying party is making for Dillon and as the company owns the quite a lot of timber in Brownsville section the general impression is they are making for this point. Should the line be built it will run in the vicinity of Reedy Creek Springs, the property recently acquired by Messrs. Bethea and Gibson. Trains are being operated over a section of their road between Hope Mills and Lumberton and it is understood that before very long the road will have reached Fairmont. The Herald has found out nothing definite in regard to the coming of this road, except that it is making for the Brownsville section and that Dillon will be included in the route. The B. & C. road running out from Bennettville has been extended to Brownsville and there may be some plan on foot to connect the two roads at this point and reach the Seaboard at Kollock.

Misses Emma Cole and Bessie Stelle Rockingham are the guests of Misses Ella and Kate Braddy.

Mrs. B. A. Fore received a telegram from Columbia yesterday stating that her daughter, Miss Ressie, had died suddenly Tuesday night. The telegram gave no particulars and was unsigned. Miss Fore was about 20 years of age and after graduating from McFeat's Business College about a year ago accepted a position as stenographer in Columbia. The body was expected to arrive last night.

Bermuda Briefs.

Hot dry weather still prevails in this section.
